GOLDEN INGOT 1986

Within these pages

The school years are that special period in life that becomes more precious as time goes by. And, of those years, the senior year holds the most golden memories. It is in this spirit of golden memories that we dedicated this special edition of the 1986 Ingot Annual.

Dubbed the Golden Ingot we have attempted in the following pages to capture in picture and copy the achievements, the triumphs, and the failures and defeats, the fun and love, and the commitment and dedication of a student body that has found a home at River

Forest.

As with a fine wine, this book's true value will not be known until years from it's publication. We hope when those years do come to pass, that a few turns of the pages will bring alive those "golden" days of high school.

V Football and basketball homecoming were high spirited, and . . . VICTORIOUS

A collaboration of team effort culminated in victory at both homecoming games. "Slay the Spartans" and "Bomb the Bombers" were the themes of the football and basketball games respectively. The varsity football team defeated the North Newton Spartans 12-7, and the basketball team defeated Rensselaer 62-57.

The first of the festivities was spirit week. The days varied from the conservative, dress-up and gold 'n cardinal, to the radical, 50's, punk, and toga.

Gina Ramos and Peggy Byarlay, both in beautiful attire, were Basketball and Football Homecoming Queens. Mike Uhles and Greg Tenorio earned the honors of being named "Mr. Basketball" and "Mr. Football."

R "Til the clock strikes twelve" a cinderella ROMANCE

Fifty-eight couples attended the annual Jr. Sr. Prom at the Assumption Hall on May 10. The theme for this year's prom was "Til the Clock Strikes Twelve." The setting was Cinderella Castles of pink and lavender. Couples danced to both fast and slow music provided by "Music Machine". Superintendent, Mrs. Chnupa, announced the Grand March. Refreshments were served ranging from finger sandwiches to peanuts. The attire of the students ranged from top hats and canes for the boys to parasols and hoop dresses that varied from pastels to black and white for the girls. Couple pictures were taken by Midstates photography. Mrs. Kroll and Mrs. Robbins, Junior Class sponsors, were responsible for the prom activities. According to many students and faculty this prom turned out to be a beautiful success because of their work.

Clockwise from top: Students attending the Prom enjoy each other's company. Mike Page and Donna Anderson enter the Prom. Rich Medellin and his date cuddle in the corner. Peggy Byariay and Greg Tenorio take a rest from dancing. Chris Trezak and Kelly McKinney smile for the photographer. Tina Lasinski and Ruben Mendez share a romantic evening. Jenny Buffington and Sam Romeo participate in the Grand March. Jack Burton and Marth Najib enjoy a close moment at Prom. Paula Christakis and Rodney Thompson are ready for a special evening of romance and dancing.

W Whether we dressed for an elegant night or in costume E'VE GOT STYLE

The Junior High Student Council sponsored dances including the Halloween and the King and Queen Dance. Both were a big hit with many Junior High students.

The King and Queen Dance, held February 14, is where the crowning of the Seventh and Eighth Grade King and Queen takes place. Edward Concepcion and Stacy Handley were crowned Seventh Grade King and Queen and Jeff Holder and Stacey Lemley were crowned Eighth Grade King and Queen.

Junior High royalty is chosen from a court of four girls and four boys from each class. The Seventh Grade court included: Kristin Baker, Anthony Alfano, Melissa Conrad, Edward Concepcion, Veronica Cortez, Sergio Domínguez, Stacy Handley, Frank Sul. The Eighth Grade court included: Yvonne Bonilla, John Daniels, Dina Cortez, Ray Gamble, Jamie Drury, Jeff Holder, Stacey Lemley, and Joe Ramirez.

There were 155 students who attended the dance. The theme was "Love Is" and the decorations were of a 1940's motif.

Along with the King and Queen Dance, the Halloween Dance was another opportunity for students to socialize with their friends and do a little monster mashing. Students had to be in costume to be admitted to the dance.

Counter clockwise from page 8: Several students attending the Halloween Dance enjoy the company of chaperone Mr. Rosner. Dina Cortez and Ray Gamble were members of the eighth grade King and Queen court. Page 9: The seventh and eighth grade King and Queen model their crowns and the latest in formal fashions. Jackie Wilson spreads his cape as he prepares for their next victim. Randy Conklin and Jeff Henson are dressed and ready for a night of partying and dancing. Melissa Conrad and Julie Calvin attended the Halloween Dance dressed as a kitten and a bag of jelly beans. Students attending the King and Queen Dance wait in front of the concessions for the next dance to begin.

B For double wedding bells are Ring-ing-ing

The mock wedding, which is a traditional assignment of the family living classes, had an unusual twist. Four couples were married instead of two.

In the first ceremony, grooms Tim Kemp and John Perez exchanged vows with brides Tammy Johnston and Monica Martinez. In the second ceremony, grooms Jerry Garner and Walter Majka exchanged vows with brides Grace Garcia and Pixie Norman. The ceremonial rites were performed by Wayne Howell and Cindy Craigin.

Proper etiquette is the "Ingot" goal; therefore, it is not unusual for many of the Ingot family to practice proper behavior. The mock wedding affords students an opportunity to reinforce what they've learned in a realistic setting. Top: F. Pacheco, G. Jestes, J. Garner, G. Garcia, W. Majka, P. Norman, R. Doom, and Q. Rately. Left: J. Hooper walks down the aisle. She was a bridesmaid for Pixie. Above: Two of the newly wedded couples kiss after their exchange of vows.

An evening of medieval family entertainment,

WASSAIL

The annual Wassail, in it's 16th consecutive year, is a Christmas celebration of medieval times. It is enhanced with the traditions of song and dance.

The Wassail, under the direction of Mr. Brown, focuses upon Santa Lucia. St. Lucia, a maiden of the Roman Empire, gave up her dowry to the poor near the day she was supposed to have been wed. Such an action was unheard of in that day.

Lucia achieved her Saint status when she was burned at the stake and did not die until a sword pierced her heart.

Along with other traditions such as the lighting of the Christmas tree and the bringing in of the Boar's head, was a puppet show written by the 8th grade STP class and performed by the Speech Club under the direction of Miss Kubiak. The newest arrival was the handbells, performed by the boys ensemble. They performed the song "Christmas was Born."

Wassailers in their dresses and tunics sang a wide variety of Christmas songs while the guests enjoyed a 4 course meal. The main dish was roast loin of pork. Other dishes included tossed green salad, baked potatoes, croissants and caviar. Desserts included Swiss Delight cake from St. Louis as well as many other varieties of cakes and candies.

"We are the World" Concert and student acts bring out our best TALENT/JAZZ

Our school has a good reputation for talent. The "Talent-Jazz Review" and the "We are the World" concert brought out some of the best. The talent show, held for three consecutive nights, was a definite success. Not only did it provide great entertainment for the audience, but it also gave its participants a chance to show off their talent.

At the "We are the World" concert each band gave its all. The beginning band played first followed by the intermediate band. The band members worked hard all year to prepare for this concert. The last two bands, concert and "Wind Ensemble," literally "sweated it out" through the year. For them the year started with marching in parades and at football games. Then they began calistenics in preparation for their Florida trip and Disney Worlds Electric Light Parade. In Florida they shared a week of fun in the sun. Their year ended at the "We are the World" concert.

Clockwise from top left: Bill Handley glances up from his work on the drafting table. Theresa Rich has day dreaming eyes as her mind wonders. Tina Tenorio seems to have found some amusement in her classwork. Margo Dowd mockingly clenches her teeth as she lets Keith Persley know who's boss. During programming class partners Sam Jeffers and Kim Wagoner look to the Instructor for approval on their program.

The class of 86 has fun, style, and promise SENIOR LIFE

Seniors like to have a good time with whatever they do. Whether its playing, working, studying, watching a championship basketball game, or just throwing a frisbee with a friend. From cruisin' Broadway or hangin' out at the Game Room to goin' to the movies or layin' out at the beach our seniors have fun and do it with style.

G Eighty-four seniors complete the first step GRADUATION AND HONOR DAY

On June 2 the class of '86 took a first and final step. Their high school career ended and adulthood began as they walked down the aisle and received their diplomas. The class of '86 has prepared and has made its plans. Thirty-one seniors are planning to attend a college or university, 15 will join the military, 12, have made plans to attend a two-year technical institute, 8 will join the adult work force, 5 will study cosmetology, 4 will go to a business college, 4 will study to become nurses, 4 are already married and 2 are engaged to get married, 1 will study horticulture, and 1 will study to be a travel agent.

The New Chicago Parade, one of several that our band marched in, brought out many different types of floats and cars. Peggy Byarlay and Greg Tenorio shared the fun of spirit week when they dressed as punk rockers. Freshmen cheerleaders, Tammy Morris, Tamara Palmer, Dawn House, Suzy Haskins, Lisa Mendez, and Tina Alfaro smile after victory. Back row: Chris Huber, Barb Trenshaw, Paula Christakis, Ruben Mendez.

Raising funds for National Symbol was Societies' goal

The Honor Societies' members main concerns this year were not only keeping their grades high to enable them to remain in the Honor Society, but also to raise funds to preserve our dying National Symbol, the Bald Eagle. The Honor Society had bake sales and solicited many donations in an effort to raise the funds. Mrs. Hooks and Mr. Grenert were sponsors.

The Academic Decathlon was held on January 11, at Merrillville High School. Mrs. Hooks and Mr. Grenert, sponsors, studied with the decathlon members everyday after school for a lengthy period. The Decathlon is open only to juniors and seniors. Nine students are chosen to participate. Included in these nine are: 2-A students, 2-B students, and 2-C students.

Members must be willing to work to achieve good quality

Newspaper and Yearbook are two class selections offered by River Forest in the Journalism field. Students are responsible for reporting, laying out pages, taking and developing pictures, and selling advertisements. Along with these responsibilities, each student who joins the publications classes is expected to learn word processing and computer graphics skills, and to be dedicated and willing to work their hardest to achieve the quality that would be expected from a school publication. The Editors in Chief for publications were Paula Christakis for Newspaper, and Annette Nieves for Yearbook. Kim Lawson took over for Annette, who left at semester break.

Councils lead us in varied activities

The High School and Junior High Student Councils were involved in many activities. Some of these included: Football and basketball homecoming, the Spring Fling, honors afternoon, Memorial Day exercises, and many assemblies and dances. Councils were under the direction of Mrs. Iorio in the High School and Miss Kubiak in the

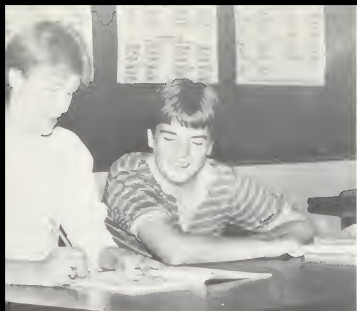

Jr. High.

High School and Junior High Great Books, sponsored by Mrs. Choncoff and Mrs. Iorio, is an organization developed to help a student better understand the literature he reads. Discussion of assigned reading was the focus of the Great Books meetings.

Below: Mrs. Robbins' 8th grade English class performs "Casey at Bat" as a choral reading for other students.

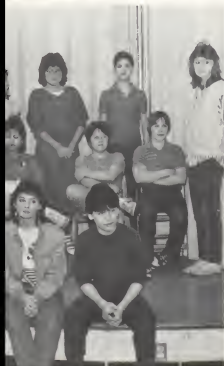

Being able to speak correctly and to speak with confidence are skills we learned well

Speech Club is designed to help students 7-12 overcome their fear of speaking in front of large audiences, said new sponsor Miss Kubiak. The categories open to students entering the competitions are: impromptu, poetry, duo, oral interpretation, radio broadcasting, and humorous interpretation. Melissa Carter is the only second year member of the three who competed.

The Russian club was not able to participate in many activities this year; however, they did have a chance to attend a production of Don Quixote performed by the American Ballet Theatre in Chicago, said sponsor Mr. Adamczyk.

FHA members hold their symbolic candles as they participate in the initiation. Shelley Groover and Martha Najib bop to the beat of the 50's in the cafeteria, a popular meeting place for students.

Sure we have dedication, but we make certain there is still time for fun

The FHA held many activities for members and nonmembers alike. Under the guidance of Miss Hayden, the club participated in a haunted hallway, a Christmas party, a Spring Dance, a bake sale, and the making of Thanksgiving baskets for the needy. The home-makers also participated in FHA Week. During this week, members emphasized the importance of their organization by showing their spirit in a different way each day.

The YACs were responsible for helping to prepare the menus for the school lunches and for running the concession stand at lunch. They worked under the guidance of Mrs. Broda, their sponsor.

Art, Aux., and F.C.A.

The Auxiliary Corp, composed of approximately 25 girls received second place in both the Lake Station and Hobart parades. The Auxiliary corp, which worked very hard to achieve these honors, also put a lot of time in entertaining football and basketball fans at half time during games. Flag captains were Vicki Rheinholtz and Norma Schumacher. Rifle captain was Michelle Carugati. Mrs. Whiting was Auxiliary Corp sponsor.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) helps a person to develop a better attitude. Our chapter held meetings one morning each week. One person was chosen for each meeting to discuss with the other members a particular subject, said sponsor Miss Joseph.

The Art Club was responsible in the planning and preparation of the faculty volleyball game. The money raised helped pay for the supplies needed for their Art Fair.

Theory, practice are the focuses

Participation in the beginning band is the first step to becoming a successful band member. At the start of the year the students are introduced to the various kinds of instruments. Then each student is given a chance to pick the instrument he or she wants to work with. Before beginning practice on the instrument, the students spend time learning music theory. Upon the completion of the unit, individual instrument instruction begins.

The Beginning Band was not involved in many performances. They did however, put on one concert. This concert was the highlight of the year for beginning band students and represented a culmination of their work.

Soaking up the hot Florida sunshine

The Concert Band under the direction of Mr. Slater and Mr. Kapiak held many concerts and performances. Some of these included: The 4th of July Parade, Christmas and Thanksgiving Day Assemblies, a televised Christmas Parade, Spring Concert (We Are the World). They also performed at football games, and the Pep Band performed at basketball games. To make these performances successful many early morning practices were required from the students. Along with regular morning practice, additional practice time was spent preparing for the Disneyland Parade which was the highlight of the band performances.

Choir rehearsals are demanding

The choirs, under the direction of Mr. Brown, were involved in many presentations including the Thanksgiving and Christmas Assemblies, a performance for the parents at the annual open house, the annual Was-sail, the Talent/Jazz Revue, the Spring Concert, and a performance at commencement.

The Talent/Jazz Revue was the newest addition to the choirs' presentations. The revue offered students who were not involved in Fine Arts a chance to perform in front of a live audience. The Talent/Jazz Revue, which was held in May, presented acts ranging from dancing to singing to playing in a band.

The effort is there, but leadership lacks

Clockwise from top left: From the sidelines Coaches Leonard and Baker watch the action intensely as the Ingots battle with the Edison Eagles. Quarterback Danny Lewis prepares to fire a pass to an Ingot receiver. Rick Sult gives it all he's got as he scrambles in an attempt to gain some yardage. Tim Craiglin quickly changes course to effectively utilize Dave Kallok's block.

NIngots fall to Eagles after five year winning streak o excuses!

After a five year winning streak the Ingots fell to the Edison Eagles, 0-16. Our rivals were just one team in a series of opponents who defeated the mighty Ingots. This was not a case of inexperience, said Coach Leonard, but rather a lack of effort and senior leadership. Some of the guys just did not put forth the effort necessary for a winning season. I was not very pleased or satisfied with the effort of the players, he said. Mr. Leonard did admit, however, that we played some tough teams. Three of our opponents in our conference did well in the play-offs.

A highlight of the season was holding the jamboree on the Ingot field for the first time in River Forest history. The three schools invited to play were South Central, Whiting, and Lake Station. Each team played against two other teams for one quarter of play.

Persistence pays off!

The season ended 3-2 for the Freshmen Football team. Even though the team was affected by the small number of guys trying out, said Coach Horban, it was a good group who worked well on the field. They never quit, he said, and many of the players had strong points that contributed well to the team.

The Eighth Grade team finished the season 3-3. All the games in which the Ingots were defeated were close. One game was lost in overtime, and the other two were lost by less than a touchdown. The team's strong point was its running backs, while its weakness was lack of size, Coach Rosner said.

The Seventh Grade Football team ended the season with a record of 1-2. This year's victory was the first game the seventh grade team has won in a number of years. The team had good rushing, said first year Coach Murray, but they made too many silly errors.

F Inconsistent play hurts volleyball season

The old cliché "A house divided cannot stand" came true for the Varsity Volleyball team. According to Coach Rieck, the squad was divided into two factions. The split in attitudes led to a lack of team unity which took its toll on both the players and coach. This coupled with another year of few returning lettermen led to the season's demise. Only three team members were returning lettermen, Angie Diaz, Kim Wagoner, and Mona Najib who came from another school. The remainder of the team was inexperienced.

After beginning the season with a convincing victory against North Judson, 15-10, 15-9, the team dropped nine games before earning their next victory in a three game match against Gary Roosevelt. Other victories included Lew Wallace and Lake Station.

The highlights of the season, said Coach Rieck, were the selection of Angie Diaz and Mona Najib to the Northwest Hoosier Conference Volleyball Team and the selection of Martha Najib for Honorable Mention along with beating Hobart in the Washington Township Tourney.

A sparse roster hurts both Jr. High teams

The girls 8th grade season ended with a record of 1 win and 5 losses. According to Coach Hilla, the girls played and developed very well as a team and should have won more matches. However, a lack of experience and a sparse roster hurt the 8th grade team.

The 7th grade team ended with a record of 2 wins and 4 losses. The team had its ups and downs, playing well one game and playing poorly the next. A small roster and inconsistent play were the two things that hurt the team the most.

C Boys Varsity brings home the conference banner HAMPIONS

With the winning conference banner hanging in the auditorium, the Varsity Boys' Basketball season ended with a score of 11-10. We had a very successful season, said Coach McDaniel. Of course we could have won a few more games and we lost a few close games that we should have won, but in all Assistant Coach Dettlerline and I were pleased with the way the team played, the people we beat, and especially winning the conference.

The boys played together as a team and their cooperation and talent earned us the conference, said the coaches.

Size hurt our team more than anything and losing to Hobart in the sectionals was a big disappointment.

Lack of Varsity and J.V. players hurts squads

INCONSISTENT

Finishing the year 3-13 the Girls' Varsity Basketball team had a rather disappointing season, said Coach Sawyer. The lack of numbers hurt the team a great deal this year. Sometimes players from Varsity had to be moved to J.V. so that our squads had enough players to compete, she said. In order to have a good, consistent, winning team, a squad needs 10 girls who will stick with the sport and work hard; we have never had that. This year's squad contained 5 seniors who had played basketball as juniors. I felt we should have had the best season ever, but it just did not happen that way, Coach Sawyer said. Inconsistency in shooting also hurt the team. When they were shooting well, said Coach Sawyer, they could keep up with almost any team. They just couldn't maintain good shooting.

Boys' J.V. ends with season at 500; Girls' squad hurt by a lack of team members

After a midseason downfall the season ended 10-10 for the J.V. Boys' Basketball team. The season started well, but basically, we fell on our face the rest of the season, said Coach Burleson. Although we lost to some teams that we should have beat, the season's biggest disappointment was failing to win the conference game.

The highlight of the season was winning the J.V. tournament, Coach Burleson said.

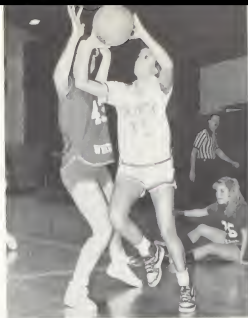

With a number of games lost by one point, the Girls' J.V. Basketball team ended the season with a 3-12 record. The season could have been better, said Coach Uhles, but considering we only had 7 players, it went okay. A lack of interest hurt the team as well. We need girls who will stay out for the season once they start, she said. The girls who did showed improvement.

Good defense doesn't overcome teams' lack of experience

The season finished 2-6 for the Eighth Grade Girls' Basketball team. Improving with each game, the girls had a good season, Coach Kirsits said. Some of the games were very close, and the girl's played very good defensively. However, the girls were hurt by a lack of experience. There were too few games, the coach felt, for the long and hard practices the girls had, and many of the players were new and had not played basketball last year.

The Seventh Grade Girl's Basketball team ended the season 3-5. The girls worked hard and came a long way, said Coach Schechner. They played good defense and never gave up, even when they were down; I am not dissatisfied, she said.

According to the coach, the practice time was used developing the team's skills in the basics.

Seventh graders lead the way as 9th and 8th grade falter

The Seventh Grade Boy's Basketball team ended the season 9-4, achieving the best record since 1973. The boys have a lot of potential and desire to win, and I think that if they continue their discipline, dedication, and the desire to win, people will hear about them, said Coach Spencer, who added that this year's boys, in my opinion, are going to be the players of the future for River Forest. I think that they will set a school record if they continue as they are.

The Freshmen Boy's Basketball team and the Eighth Grade Boy's Basketball team did not fair as well. The Freshmen ended the season 0-14. The boys could hustle the ball well and continued to improve throughout the season, said Coach Rosner, but our opponents just had more talent than we had. Even though not a game was won, the boys did not give up. The season being as dismal as it was, I am extremely proud of those who committed themselves to the end, he said.

The Eighth Grade Boy's Basketball team won 1 game out of 13. The biggest problem, Coach Leonard said, was their poor attendance at practices. Not only did they miss needed practice, but they also made themselves ineligible to play the next game. Joe Rodriguez earned Most Valuable Player, Joe Liberto, Most Improved, and Brian Hoobyar, the Mental Attitude Award.

D Mental and physical errors hurt JV and Varsity DISAPPOINTING

Ending with a score of 4-19, the Varsity Baseball team's season was disappointing, said Coach Whiting. The team made too many mental and physical mistakes. Some of the key players whom I expected a lot out of took longer than anticipated to reach their potential, he said.

One of the bright spots was that the season allowed many of the young sophomores to gain varsity experience.

The J.V. Baseball team ended the season 2-9. The many errors at the beginning of the season hurt the team, said Coach Murray. Batting was also our downfall, he said. We averaged 7-10 strikeouts per game. Among the talented members of the team were Doug Funes, Jeff Muha, and Julio Concepcion. Julio was a very cooperative, dedicated, and conscientious athlete. As a matter of fact, Coach Murray said, Julio beat out many of the sophomores. Jeff Muha had an excellent fast arm and consistency, and Doug Funes was a good player behind the plate.

M Striving to achieve your personal best MOTIVATION

For the first time ever, the Junior High participated in Cross Country. The Cross Country team finished the season 6-3 in dual meets. It was a building season with many young boys, said Coach Marszalek. Tim Mills highlighted the team, he said, with many first and second places throughout the season. Jim Gaydos was also a real asset to the Cross Country team, and Saul Vargas and Juan Lopez showed much promise during the season. Junior High Cross Country runner Phil Nafus will be outstanding in High School Cross Country. He was much above average, the coach felt. It takes a special person to be able to run 2½ miles of lonely track with no one there to cheer you on, said Marszalek.

The Tennis team's season ended with a record of 2-11. The team consisted of many young, inexperienced players most of whom needed to practice more during the off season, said Coach Dettlerline. The team had only one senior member, Mike Uhles.

Boys' And Girls' Varsity And JV Teams Set New School Records

STUPENDOUS

Breaking the school's 400 meter relay record three times, the Boys' Varsity team ended the season 6-0 in dual meets. The school record was broken by Rick Sult, Jewell Barnhill, Dennis Thomason, and Mike Page. Tim Mills ran undefeated in dual meets in the ½ mile, mile, and 400 meter relay. Pete Otero tied the school record for discus.

With 5 new school records to their credit, the Girl's finished their season 2-8. Coach Mueller and I feel the girls did an excellent job and had a very successful season even though we did not win many games, said Coach Joseph.

P.J. Wiggins and Shelly Groover broke records by running the mile in 6:08' and the 300 m. hurdles in 52.03' respectively. Other records were set by Theresa Groover in both the 200 m., 27.08' and the 400 m., 64". U Boys jr. high track leads the way for other teams UNDEFEATED

Although they were young and inexperienced players, Coach Leonard's Golf team did fairly well, ending the season 6-5. The team's weaknesses were in their inconsistency, chipping, and putting. We could have improved our position in the sectionals and conference with a more experienced squad, he said. The top golfer was Bryan Baker.

With a first ever undefeated season and two broken records earned, the Boy's Jr. High Track team ended the year 10-0. Phil Nafus set a record in the 1600 m. run in 5 minutes and 15 seconds, and Sergio Dominguez, Bill Wilkie, Darren Guess, and Reese Price in the 400 m. relay in 51.45".

The Girl's Jr. High Track team finished the season 0-3, losing the last two meets by 2-3 points. Having only three meets, the season was short, said Coach Kirsits.

D The Wrestlers' Motto: Without guts there is no glory etermination

At the beginning of the season, the wrestling team, led by Coach Horban and Coach Sommers, started off with 27 students, but by the end of the season only 14 remained. Not only the number of quitters but also the lack of experience, hurt the team.

The same was true of the junior high wrestling team, led by Coach Hilla. The squad started it's season with a 28 member roster, but by the end of the first practice only 28 remained and by the time the last practice arrived, the team had dwindled to 4.

According to Coach Horban, the most exciting and consistent varsity wrestler was Greg Tenorio. Greg had a good attitude and helped push the guys in practice all season long. In sectionals Greg placed 2nd and in the regionals Greg lost to an opponent who placed 2nd in State Finals. Along with Greg many of the veteran wrestlers took it upon themselves to push the rookies and less experienced wrestlers to utilize their full potential.

Leading the school in spirit through defeat and victory

ENTHUSIASM

Both the Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleading squads had an outstanding year, said sponsor Mrs. Whiting. The girls worked hard and looked great both on the field and court. They cheered well this year, she said.

Together the Varsity and

J.V. squad attended an ASCC camp at St. Joseph's College. At this camp there was more private instruction than at other camps. Camp also dealt with fund raisers and provided the girls with a cheerleading book that included the cheers and chants taught there. Both squads did a great job at camp, said Mrs. Whiting. The first night of evaluation the girls received a second place ribbon, and the rest of the nights, a blue first place ribbon. For final evaluation both the Varsity and J.V. earned a first place ribbon in their divisions.

Keeping spirits high by encouraging the crowd to back the home team

The Freshmen Cheerleaders had a great year, said Mrs. Whiting, sponsor. During the last week in July the girls attended a DCA camp in Valparaiso. After receiving first place blue ribbons every night for daily evaluation, the freshmen returned home with a first place trophy.

The Eighth Grade Cheerleading squad did really well this year, said Miss Kirsits, sponsor. The girls performed nicely at all basketball games, she said. During the summer the girls attended an NCA camp. The camp consisted of four days of competition; the girls earned a first for best J.H. group, a spirit stick, 2 1st place ribbons, and 2 2nd place ribbons.

The Seventh Grade Cheerleaders experienced a good year, also. Numerous students tried out in the fall for the seven member squad.

Clockwise from far left: The Seventh Grade Cheerleaders were, Coach Kirsits, Stacey Handley, Kristin Baker, Veronica Cortez, Pam Gonzales, DeeDee Mireless, Kim Jeffers, April Buchanan. The Eighth Grade Cheerleaders were, clockwise: Amanda Watts, Stacey Lemley, Valerie Dzulubla, Yvonne Bonilla, Cathy Szvedo, Dina Cortez, Sherry Daniel. The Freshmen Cheerleaders were, Dawn House, Susie Haskins, Tina Alfano, Lisa Mendez, Tammy Palmer, Tammy Morris. The Freshmen cheerleaders fill a timeout with one of their cheers. Joe McWhirter and Valerie Dzulubla pose for the camera. Carmen Tellez cheers the crowd on at the homecoming bonfire.
